Once upon a time, a little lamb was born. This lamb grew into a big, strong Woolie sheep. It had a great clever head (R. Roach, G. Cammuso, and W. Connor), strong fast legs (D. Graves, J. Huchowski, S. McArdle, R. Tumas, and D. Bengston), a broad firm back (M. Buffone, W. Buffone, J. Kacevich, L. Tebo, and S. Beckier), great powerful shoulders (W. Burak, D. Piel, T. Brady, and P. McArdle), plus an extra reserve of power to block the attacks of cruel forest Rangers, bloodthirsty Pirates, wild Rams, hungry Indians, and savage Wolverines.

At first, while protecting itself from its enemies, the Woolie sheep was injured many times by the alien Rams, and Wolverines, and Indians. But then, one year, it was injured only once—by a Spartan warrior. The next year, however, the Woolie sheep kept a careful watch on its enemies. Its head was wiser; its legs, swifter; its back and shoulders, stronger. The Woolie sheep resolved it would never again be injured by an enemy. Eight times it warded off the enemy. No Ram or Wolverine or Indian was too strong for the Woolie.

But only one day remained before the sheep would leave its grazing lands and go to live in the farmer's barn for the winter. Only one day! But one enemy remained. The cruel Ram was long an enemy of the Woolie sheep. In past years the Ram had defeated the Woolie. But now the Woolie was stronger! After all, eight times that season it had conquered all its other enemies.

The night before the big encounter with the Ram, the Woolie had a dream about defeating the Ram. The next day all the pretty sheep came to cheer the Woolie on, and the Woolie sheep was once again unbeatable and proved itself to be the king—the king of the great mountain. The dream of the great Woolie sheep had come true.

Class Day Address of Welcome

Parents, Members of the Faculty, Fellow Classmates, and Friends:

As President of the Class of 1970, it gives me great pleasure to welcome each and every one of you to our Class Day exercises.

Today marks the day that we bid farewell to M.H.S. and enter into the fastest paced and most trouble filled world that man has ever known. It is a world filled with hunger and poverty, pollution and crime, amnesty and apathy. It is a world in dire need of leaders—leaders who will not become easily frustrated and follow the crowd into senseless acts of dissent.

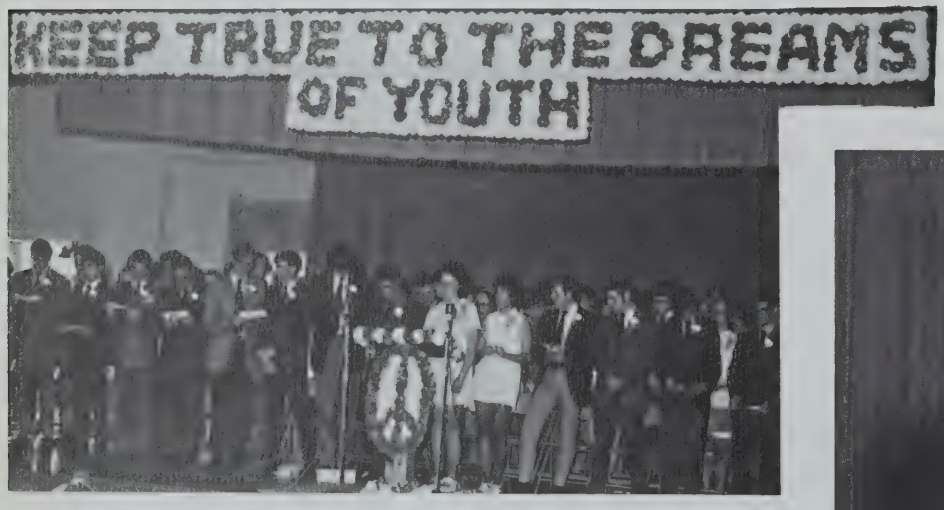
The Class of 1970 contains such leaders—young men and women who have already proven themselves outstanding in classroom, in arts, and in athletics, and who will continue to do so in the future thanks to our parents and teachers who have continually strived to make us better persons in body, mind, and spirit.

We would like to thank Mr. Elkins, superintendent of schools, and Mr. Drake, principal of the high school, for their unenviable task of trying to make decisions in the best interests of the school and our class. We would also like to thank Mr. Capparelli, our class advisor, who gave so much of his time in guiding us through a trying senior year, and Mrs. Bullard, to whom we dedicate our yearbook, not only for her capable secretarial assistance but for the many little things she did for our class, which often went unnoticed.

To each of you, my fellow classmates, I wish the best of luck in the future, and we sincerely hope that all of you in the audience will enjoy our Class Day exercises.

Thank You,

Joseph Kacevich
President, Class of '70



Class History

As the Seniors look back on four years at Millbury High, the time seems to have gone by much faster than we would have imagined four years ago.

We began to execute our role as Freshmen in high school with the election of officers. We chose Maureen May as President, Dave Hall as Vice, Ray Roach as Treasurer, Cindy DeLuca as Secretary, and Kathy Faron as Class-captain.

Along with entrance into high school came the opportunity to participate in interscholastic sports. Little did we realize what towering figures of the athletic world students from our class would become. Among those reporting for freshmen football were Ray Roach, John Huchowski, Bill Buffone, Chuck Connor, Steve Bek, Joe Kacevich, and many more. Under the direction of Coach Graham, these boys developed a real interest in the game.

Other students developed a real interest in the clubs they were joining. Terrified as many students were of Mr. Hayes, Jon Pride, Thea Silun, Lenny Pescheta, and Bill Holmes joined the Public Speaking and Debating Club. After the fear barrier was broken down, everyone realized that a teacher can also be a friend and someone in whom to confide. Congratulations went to Cindy Woll, who won the highest public speaking honor in Massachusetts for her interpretation of the three witches from Macbeth.

Mr. Desrosiers and Mademoiselle Brown headed up a fine French Club, which unfortunately had only one representative from our class, Mary Norton. Mary, however, became a good recruiter for the club. In the next two years she increased the ranks of the club to include Linda Mongeon, Laura Miles, Denise Pajala, Ann O'Brien, Barbara Vielle, and Carolyn Thompson.

As winter approached, we Freshmen soon realized that we had a steady work load to carry. Mr. Ford was very "Frank" in his intent to force his classes to suffer through the tortures of Ivanhoe and ancient Greek mythology. That was a tough battle to fight, and we almost lost a few students along the way.

The changing weather prepared us for the upcoming basketball season. Ray Roach who had played Pee Wee Basketball in the eighth grade graduated to the high school varsity team in his Freshman year. The basketball spotlight was also on John Huchowski, Steve Bekier, Bill Berthiaume, and Mike Snow.

The Freshman year was a time for General Science for the boys and Home Economics for the girls. It was through Mr. Allen that we learned the basic fundamentals of chemistry and physics. Considering the restless group he had to contend with, Mr. Allen deserves more credit than we probably allow him.

The very same compliment should be made concerning Mrs. Dakin. She sparked enthusiasm in many girls, and she is to be commended for the number of potentially good housewives who learned more from their economics courses than they know. No girl emerged from Mrs. Dakin's class a "Plain Jane."

Baseball! As we glanced around the diamond we saw Joe Kacevich, Carl Thornburg, Bob Lind, Steve McArdle, Ray Roach, Dennis McArdle, Bill Berthiaume, Gig Cammuso, John Huchowski, and Eddie Taylor.

Our Freshman year finally drew to a close—one down, three to go!

The Sophomore year arrived, and field hockey beckoned the girls. As in every year, the field hockey participation was very large, giving Miss Harrington a good group from which to choose next year's starting players. On her list were Thea Silun, Marie Manoogian, Janice Brodeur, Becky Ethier, Jean Riani, Kathy Hamilton, Gail Hughes, Linda Mangano, Ann Gonyea, Ann O'Brien, and Ginny Ward.

For Sophomore English everyone had Mrs. Matthews, a "Maggie-nificent" teacher. It was because of Mrs. Matthews that A Tale of Two Cities was engrained into the memory banks of our minds. Among the other Mrs. Matthews Sophomore Specials were such characters as Walter Mitty, Enoch Arden, Silas Marner, and Shylock the Jew. Seriously, we should all thank Mrs. Matthews for our understanding of traditional grammar and language structure. We don't often appreciate at the right time what we have been taught, so we thank you now, Mrs. Matthews.

Also related to English was the "Reflector," which would have "literarily" collapsed without the dedicated workers from our class. The contributors to the school magazine were Mary Norton, Cindy Woll, Laurie Stowe, Elaine Koehler, Linda Cournoyer, Kathy Faron, Cindy DeLuca, Jon Pride, Ginny Ward, Sylvia Riendeau, Lenny Pescheta, Laura Miles, Thea Silun, and Jean Riani.

In the spring the golf team swung into action with such notable pros as Steve Bekier, Jim Hamilton, Bob Karsok, and next year, Bob Lind. It must have been the Senior year addition of Bob Campbell that changed the team's luck.

With the close of our Sophomore year, it's two down, two to go!

Before we returned to M.H.S. in the fall, a new administration had taken over. Mr. Beaton, Superintendent of Schools, was replaced by Mr. Elkins; while Mr. Shaw, our principal, was replaced by Mr. Drake.

After ten weeks vacation we returned to the hallowed corridors of Millbury High as upperclassmen. We received our class rings, which were the most distinctive rings to be issued by any class. The maroon stone color was chosen so to show loyalty to Millbury High. The unusual shape of the stone stands for the originality and individuality of the Class of 1970.

The 1968 football season was the greatest in Millbury High's history. Every game was a sensational win. Gig Cammuso, Bill Berthiaume, Chuck Connor, Ray Roach, Dennis McArdle, Dave Bengston, Tom Brady, Dick Tumas, Joe Kace, Steve McArdle, Dennis Piel, and Spider Bek were the team's great athletic supporters. That year the team captured the Class "C" Champs and the Southern Worcester County League titles.

Along with the cheerleaders, of which Debby Brady and Brenda Borci were members, the band was a terrific morale-builder. Under the direction of Mr. Bruno, many students developed a "Rock-bottom" interest in music. Some members of our class involved in the band or chorus were Gordon Gover, Bob Erickson, Bob Hopewell, Phil Brown, and Sylvia Riendeau. In our Senior year the chorus boasted the welcome addition of Mark Maguire. Students selected for All-state Band or Chorus were Audrey Slivka, Phil Brown, and Sylvia Riendeau.

But also in the Junior year came several rewards for the diligent student. In that year the National Honor Society named thirteen members of our class to its chapter. Cindy Woll, Mary Norton, and Sylvia Riendeau became members of the Horace Mann Society.

In the spring of 1969 the Dramatic Club started the new tradition of making an annual three-day trip to New York City under the supervision of Mr. Miles. These trips have proved to be a great success, and future Thespians will certainly look forward to these trips with great enthusiasm.

Track! The Class of 1970 has certainly produced more than its share of track stars. The athletes in our class who now hold school records are Dick Tumas, Paul Carlson, Pete Nyberg, and John Huchowski.

Softball! In our Junior year the girls produced a strong softball team. It was composed of Laura Miles, Gail Hughes, Debby Brady, Becky Ethier, Ann O'Brien, and Pitcher Dawn Auclair.

In early June of that same year we attended our Junior prom. Under the chairmanship of Mary Naleski, Hawaiian Sunset was a great success. The Senior prom, Camelot, was chairmaned by Bill Holmes. The reigning queen at both proms was Ginny Ward.

Through our four years at M.H.S., the student body has owed a debt of gratitude to its Student Council. Among those members of our class who served were Laurie Stowe, Dennis McArdle, Bill Buffone, Joe Kacevich, Linda Mangano, Marcia Brady, Ginny Ward, and Maureen May, who was president during our Senior year.

Our Senior year is over now. It is spread out for us to examine. Among the emotional highlights of the year were the Thanksgiving Day football game, the National Honor Society graffiti wall, Ray Roach being named All-American, in the basketball season his scoring fifty points against Sacred Heart, the slave auction, Fast Day, and our Senior Skip Day.

It is sad to leave a Millbury High where students have been long-time companions and close friends, and where teachers have been teachers beyond the required curriculum. However, student control and teacher morale are in a period of great flux. It is hoped that through the struggle for school improvement a mutual understanding will arise from the students, the faculty, and the administration.

It is with mixed emotions that we, the Class of 1970, leave Millbury High.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Graduating Class of 1970, do hereby declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

To Mr. Drake we leave a Senior Class that will keep some traditions, and that will not try to change everything.

To Mr. Capparelli we leave a class that will have all their dues paid long before the deadline.

To Mrs. Bullard we leave our thanks for the help she has given to us throughout our four years.

To show our appreciation for her efforts, we dedicate our Aftermath to her.

To Mrs. McCarron we leave a class with business-like attitudes.

To Mrs. O'Mara we leave the record, "Take a letter Maria."

To Mr. Murray we leave an intercom system, so that his classes will get out in time during future Bomb Scares.

To Miss Rawinski we leave the job of Student Council advisor.

To Mrs. Matthews we leave a fourth period study in the girls' basement.

To Miss Roy we leave our deepest gratitude for her help with the Aftermath.

To Mr. Ford we leave another fourth period study, with senior boys.

To Mr. Graham we leave a gift certificate for a haircut every two weeks.

To Mr. Howard we leave a pair of dark glasses to conceal his glances.

To Mr. Faron we leave the job of watching sessions, after senior skip days.

To Miss Harrington we leave a class of girls that won't get senioritis.

To Mr. Matson we leave a Freshman to replace Ray Roach.

To Mr. Roach we leave a book entitled, "How to Keep a Secret."

To Mr. Murin we leave a mod outfit—to go with his fashionable glasses.

To Mr. O'Leary we leave a few good classes, to keep his Irish eyes smiling.

To Mr. Lacouture we leave a better Bookkeeping 11 class.

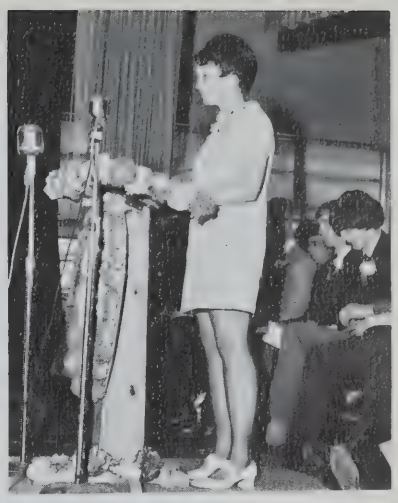
To Mr. Gemme we leave a larger office, with an air conditioner.

To Cathy Laucis and Sandy Anderson we leave Margie Anderson and Becky Ethier's positions on the basketball team.

To Billy Burak and Larry Tebo we leave the hopes of a successful football season.

To Brian LaForte we leave an inflatable doll to stand with in the corridor every morning.

To Kathy Lemoine we leave a new alarm clock, so that she won't have to see so much of Mr. Roach.



To Gayle Ojerholm we leave Mary Naleski's title of "Best Dressed."

To Cathy Winiarski we leave the regrets that we are taking Gig with us.

To Tom Cournoyer we leave another year at M.H.S.

To Steve Ducharme we leave the distinction of being the most attractive at the Slave Auction.

To the future freshman class we leave instructions on how to enjoy four years of high school.

To the Sophomore Class we leave the thought that they will soon be upperclassmen.

To the Junior Class we leave the good manners, with which we have always conducted ourselves.

We, the Senior Class of Millbury Memorial High School, sincerely hope that the people mentioned in the above document are satisfied with their bequests. We trust and hope that there will be no contesting of doubtful privileges bequested to one in preference to another.

By the hand of their clerk, Maureen May

Class Prophecy

Vigilando, agendo, bene consulendo, prospera omnia cedunt.
—Sallust

This Quote doesn't have anything to do with the class Prophecy, but it Sure Looks impressive.

In a more Serious Vein, though, the class prophecy Committee would like to Say that the Entire senior class will do Extremely well in The Future.

Due to Lack of Space, the entire Class prophecy cannot be Printed in the Yearbook. Therefore, we have settled for a Short section to be printed On this page. Following are some Quotes taken From various magazines throughout the Country:

"... and I really enjoyed reading it ... would read it again if I had the chance ..."

—Field and Stream

"... a good outdoorsey-type book ... would give it to my young daughter, without any hesitation ..."

—Ladies Home Journal

"... g ... r ... e ... a ... t ..."

—American Horticultural Magazine

What led these internationally known magazines to give these good reviews of the M.H.S. Class Prophecy? Perhaps assorted quotes found in the body of the Prophecy can account for them. Brilliant, descriptive passages such as these:

"... Voluminous clouds of acrid blue smoke flowed from the stogie fixed in the corner of his mouth ... I beheld a breathtakingly beautiful blonde behind the chair ... making my way through the snow drifts, I perceived a row of storefronts spanning the azure skyline of the booming metropolis ... I was picked up by a young man sporting a mustache and a short goatee ... leading them was a lone figure dressed in what must once have been the remains of an old flour sack ... they were wielding ugly-looking submachine guns ..."

Or perhaps it is the stimulating dialogue, occurring at strategically planned places, that promotes the truly well-deserved reputation of the Prophecy:

"... 'Hello,' she said, 'Table for one'"? ... 'You almost hit me'! I scoffed ... 'What'? ... 'No,' I said, 'Arrivederci means goodbye' ... 'Hi,' I greeted, 'Two cheese burgers and a side order of antipasto' ... 'Yeah, he has a winery about forty miles from here' ... 'No, I'm a super-hero now' ... 'Bow-wow,' said the dog ... 'Hi,' I greeted ... 'Do you possess the magic to get me home'? ... 'Isn't this heaven'? I asked ..."

So we hope you will fully appreciate the Class Prophecy, and help it to become a huge success. It is soon to become an M*G*M motion-picture. On sale now at your favorite newsstand, for only $5.95*.

Omissions and Corrections

To Brenda Borci
soon to be wed
we leave this leash
so she can be led

To Spider Bekier
who's liked by all we leave a girlfriend who is such a doll

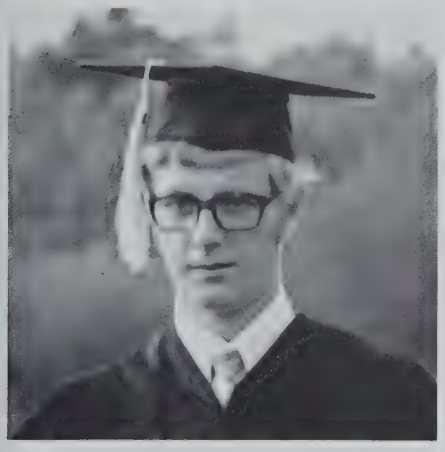
The town, Millbury, Massachusetts; Paul Carlson lives here. His job is to keep the peace. If trouble occurs, he goes to work. Paul carries a badge, a gun, a slingshot—anything he can get his hands on. On June 4, Paul was working the day watch out of Mr. Roach's office. It was his job to keep the seniors in class that day. And I'm going to let you in on a little secret—the seniors did stay in school; because old Paul was guarding the entrances with his trusty slingshot.

Paul Baker



THE ROLE OF THE LIBERAL IN TOMORROW'S SOCIETY

"Therefore, I consider it my responsibility, and trust that the majority of the graduating class of 1970 will consider it theirs, to go out into the world, undertake the role of the liberal, and proceed to make America a more suitable place in which to live."

—JOHN HUCHOWSKI

TRAVEL, THE EDUCATOR

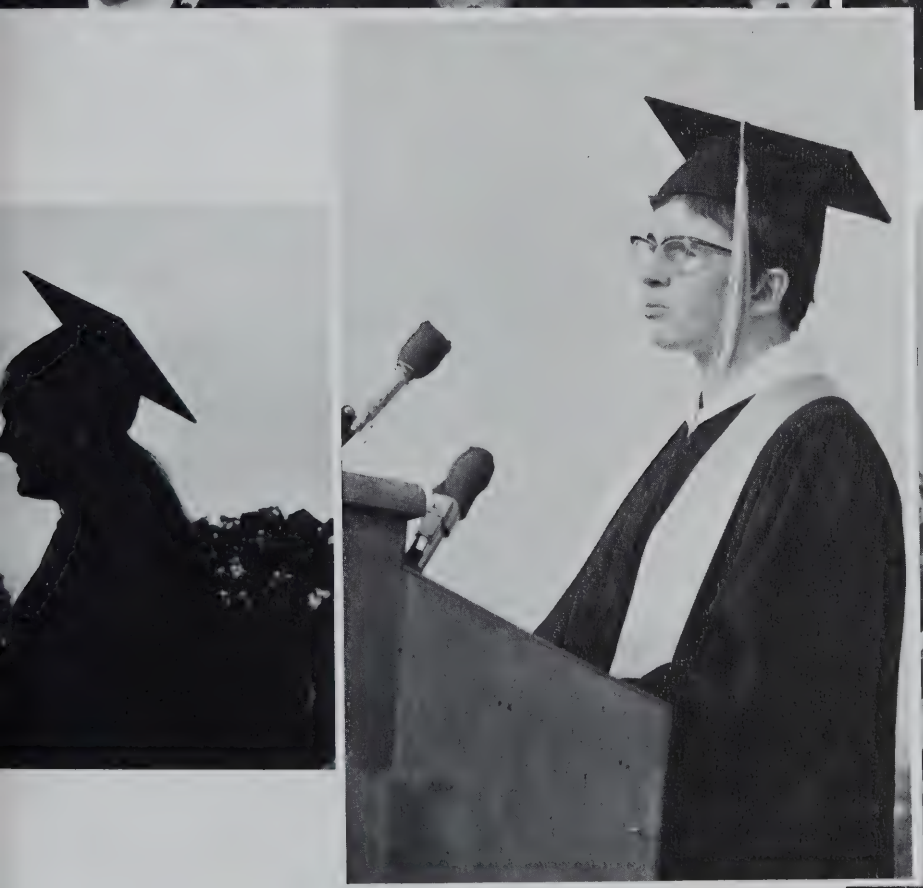
"Perhaps through travel we can begin to understand the problems of the world, and through a strong desire to work out our differences with each other we can assure world peace. After this is done, we will be truly educated."

—SYLVIA RIENDEAU

THE REVOLUTION IN EDUCATION

"We are just idealistic enough to believe that it is possible for schools to be unified and for education to become a joy instead of a punishment. It is up to us to continue this revolution in education—to bring real education to schools."

—CYNTHIA WOLL



DISSENT WITHIN THE SYSTEM

"But, discord and despair never solved problems. As a reminder to some, we are not the only ones who have ever tried to reform the ills that surround us. Our country was built on dissent, good healthy dissent. But any healthy thing to an extreme may become unhealthy."

—MARY NORTON

KEEP TRUE TO THE DREAMS OF YOUTH
1970

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

. . . Mr. Roach was going to "let us in on a little secret"

. . . freshmen actually feared and respected seniors

. . . Ray Roach, scoring 50 points in the Sacred Heart game, broke four school records

. . . Cindy Woll received a gold medal for her "Three Witches" speech

. . . 102 seniors forgot to come to school

. . . the N.H.S. grafitti wall remained

. . . Mr. Murray's P.D. class survived the bomb scare

. . . our science room was called Uncle Tom's Cabin

. . . we learned about the bus seat principle and Mickey Mouse in chemistry

. . . we took the great bike ride on the last day of school

. . . we entered the "smoking rooms" on each floor

. . . we organized our "secret" class parties

. . . Mike Kupstas would gag during the moment of silence

. . . there was a herd of sheep on the tennis court

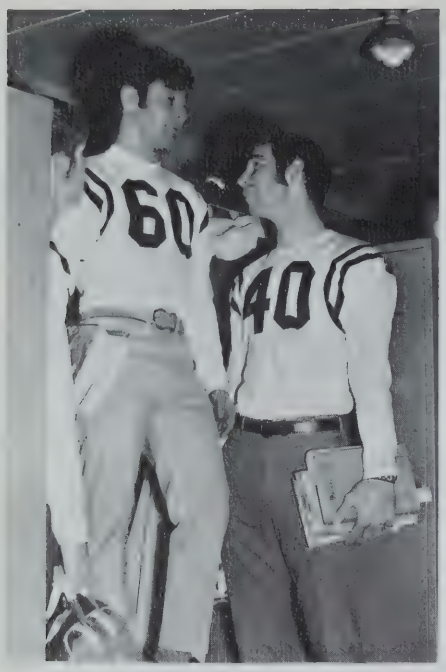
. . . John Huchowski caught a Ray Roach pass to win the Westboro game

. . . everybody had a squirt gun—even the teachers

. . . Art Corey received his diploma on crutches

. . . and remember . . .

UNITED WE STAND



"Well George, maybe in another 10 or 20 years."

"Boy, do I feel dumb."

"No gay times!"

"No autographs, please."

"I just don't understand it, I use a mouth wash."

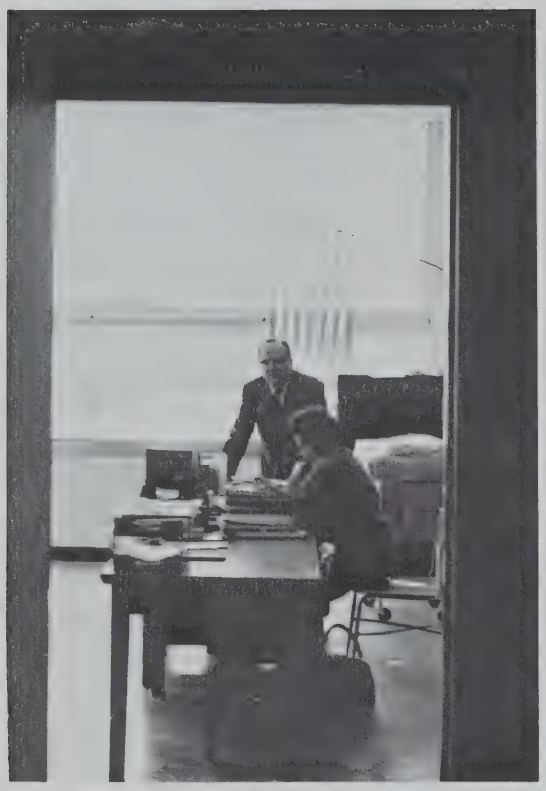
"It hurts, right here!"

"What's the problem this morning, Miss Lettic?"

"The Zoo"

"There's a time and place for everything."

"Don't look now, but I think we're being watched."



Jonathan
Stockwell
1952-1964

These years we saw together days to remember . . .
days to forget . . .
some things never to be forgotten.

We grew and our memories grew with us.
